Six U. S. Airmen Reported
Missing, Captured by Reds

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist antiaircraft fire shot down five U. S. planes during raids over North Viet Nam Friday in one of the heaviest days of American losses of the war.

U. S. headquarters, reporting this today, said the pilot of one plane was rescued, but the six fliers aboard the other four aircraft are missing.

Crisis in Bonn Likely to Last

Kiesinger, Brandt
Begin Maneuvering
For Party Support

BONN, Germany (AP)—Two main rivals in the race for West German chancellor — Christian Democrat Kurt Georg Kiesinger and Socialist Willy Brandt — plunged into a weekend of intensive political maneuvering today. But there were indications the government crisis would last another 10 days or longer.

Leaders of the Free Democrats, a small party that could swing either the Christian Democrats or the Socialists into majority control of Parliament, left town to prepare for elections in the state of Bavaria. The result there could vitally affect their bargaining position.

Kiesinger, 62, minister-president of Baden-Wuerttemberg State, planned a series of talks with his party's leaders, including outgoing Chancellor Ludwig Erhard.

Public Criticism

The Christian Democrats chose Kiesinger as their candidate Thursday after Erhard agreed to step down, but the selection has brought on public criticism because of Kiesinger's role in helping to run the Nazi Foreign Ministry's radio propaganda section during World War II.

Brandt, 52, mayor of West Berlin, Friday night took leadership of the Socialists' negotiating committee in the crisis and promised to set forth his political program in the next few days.

In a radio broadcast, he said he would be ready to become chancellor if the Socialists and Free Democrats worked out an agreement.

Air Force Still Hopes to Find Lost Airplane

Investigators
Begin Probe of Unexplained Crash

OTIS AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP) — A crack team of Air Force investigators began a probe today of the second crash in 16 months of a radar picket plane in the Atlantic.

The search resumed at dawn for the 19 men who were aboard the giant Constellation when it went down early Friday 125 miles southeast of Nantucket Island.

Col. James Lyle, commander of the 551st Early Warning and Control Wing to which the plane was attached, said of the search, "I have hope. Until I receive word there is no hope, I won't give up."

All but one of the men aboard were married and their families included 40 children.

The New Bedford fishing boat Stephen R reported seeing the plane flying low in fog and rain squalls, bank steeply to the right, and plunge cartwheeling into the water with a fiery explosion at 1:30 a.m. The boat reported seeing no parachutes.

Judges Order Georgia to Find Own Solutions

Nov. 25 Deadline
Set for Filing Plan of Selecting Governor

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The state of Georgia has been put on deadline to find a legal solution to choosing a new governor — other than allowing the legislature to choose between Republican Howard H. Callaway and Democrat Lester G. Maddox.

A three-judge federal panel said Friday that if the state fails to present a plan by Nov. 25, the court will provide the remedy.

This raised the possibility of a runoff election under a 1964 state law within the next month. Neither candidate received a majority of votes, required by the Georgia constitution for victory, because of a strong write-in vote for former Gov. Ellis G. Arnall.

Arnall, a moderate Democrat, was defeated by Maddox, a segregationist, in the Democratic primary.

The formal court order was delayed until next Tuesday, but the judges made it clear that the court would not allow the General Assembly to decide the deadlocked race.

The judges, commenting from the bench, said a legislative election of a governor would violate the U. S. Constitution and the Supreme Court decisions on one man, one vote.

With all of the state's 1,893 precincts reported but with an undetermined number of absentee ballots still uncounted, Maddox had 447,426 votes, Callaway 445,832 and Arnall 57,699.

Alleged Sniper Held at Rockford

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — A teen-age youth was held by police today on a charge of reckless conduct in connection with a series of sniper shootings this week.

John Williams Jr., son of a former deputy sheriff, was quoted by police as saying he was the person who fired a pistol at several persons.

The snipings, which resulted in one woman being injured by glass fragments after a bullet shattered a mirror, occurred on the West Side.

Homer Back To Normal After Blaze

HOMER, Mich. (AP) — The residents of this little community were back in their homes today, assured by experts that the threat of deadly phosgene gas had ended.

A train wreck Friday morning, which caused a spectacular explosion and fire and threatened to convert two carloads of vinyl chloride into nauseating and potentially fatal phosgene gas, brought evacuation of most of Homer's 1,600 residents.

No injuries were reported. Col. Fredrick Davids, state police director, called an end to the evacuation at 5:30 p.m. Friday after being assured by New York Central Railroad General Manager William Salter and Homer Fire Chief Bruce Gregg that the danger had passed.

Salter said he could not estimate the cost of the damage. He declined to speculate on the cause of the wreck.

Viet Cong Also Used Gas

Reds May Fail in Condemning U.S.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Word that the Communists have used nonlethal gas in Viet Nam may scuttle Soviet bloc efforts in the United Nations to condemn the United States for chemical warfare.

The Reds made no mention of a report the Viet Cong had lobbed tear-gas type grenades at U. S. troops when they brought up the issue of bacteriological warfare Friday in the General Assembly's main political committee.

Hungary's Ambassador Karoly Csatorday, who introduced the resolution, charged that U.S. use of gases and chemicals in Viet Nam was "on the fringe of genocide."

"Without Foundation"

William C. Foster, chief U. S. disarmament negotiator, said Red allegations that the United States was using any kind of poison gas in Viet Nam were "absolutely without foundation."

Foster did not mention the reported Viet Cong gas attack either, but he emphasized that he would deal with the Communist charges in detail later in the debate.

This roused speculation that

Settlement Seen in Westinghouse Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negotiators have reached a tentative agreement on national issues affecting a Westinghouse Electric Corp. labor dispute that threatens to extend a 30-day strike to a third major defense facility.

The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service announced the tentative pact Friday night, but said the firm and the AFL-CIO International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers still have to come to terms on local issues.

Photograph Eclipse, Continue Mission

Astronauts 'Right on the Money'

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Shielding their eyes against the sun's glare, the Gemini 12 astronauts chased the moon across South America today and snapped photographs of one of nature's most spectacular sights: a solar eclipse.

For 10 minutes as their space ship raced across the skies, James A. Lovell Jr. and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. were busy cameramen, recording the steady movement of the new moon as it slipped across the face of the sun.

For seven or eight seconds the sun was in rare total eclipse and the Gemini 12 pictures may give man his most revealing look at this phenomenon and perhaps answer some scientific riddles.

Before speeding out over the Atlantic, Lovell and Aldrin pitched the spacecraft nose down in an apparently unsuccessful effort to photograph the giant 52-mile-wide shadow of the moon as it slid across Peru, Bolivia, Brazil and Argentina.

Missed Shadow

"We hit the eclipse right on the money," Lovell reported. "But we were unsuccessful in picking up the shadow."

"Roger," answered mission control, "we figured it would be a long way off."

The eclipse over, Gemini 12 sped on toward another important task. At 11:29 a.m. Aldrin was to open his hatch for a 2-hour 20-minute work session, the first of three he plans outside the craft during the flight in hopes of learning man's physical limitations in weightless space.

To obtain the eclipse photos, Lovell and Aldrin had to steer Gemini 12 to a precise spot

Because of the possibility of eye damage, they were cautioned not to look at the sun. To reduce the danger, they pulled a shade over one window and installed a filter on the other.

Three Cameras

They mounted three cameras — two for 16mm movies and one still camera that snapped three pictures of the total eclipse at three different exposures ranging up to four seconds.

For 10 minutes, at an altitude of about 170 miles, the movie cameras recorded a partial eclipse as the moon started to obscure the sun. The total eclipse followed.

The rendezvous with the eclipse was inserted back in the Gemini 12 flight plan after it once had been erased. A faulty fuel pump on the Agena target satellite forced cancellation of a plan to use the Agena to shoot to an altitude of 490 miles and resulted in a juggling of the plan.

Good pictures from Gemini 12 would be a bonus for scientists who had given up hope for the experiment when the launching date skipped from Wednesday until Friday.

Experiment Dropped

Had Lovell and Aldrin blasted off on schedule Wednesday, Aldrin had planned to open his hatch and, wearing a protective visor, was to snap ultra-violet and other photos that would not be degraded by the spacecraft window.

Because of the launch postponement, this could not be worked into the flight plan with-

Police Say Parolee, 23, Confessed

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Fear gripping residential areas during a series of fatal stabbings of girls was eased Friday night after the arrest of a factory shipping clerk who police said admitted two of the slayings.

Michael Lee Herrington, 23, accompanied to Milwaukee County Court by his pregnant wife, was charged with slaying a 10-year-old girl Sept. 4, an 18-year-old waitress Oct. 16 and with attempted murder of an 11-year-old girl Friday morning.

Police Chief Harold Breier said Herrington, identified as a parolee from Leavenworth Federal penitentiary, admitted the slayings for which he was charged with first degree murder, and the latest assault whose victim was reported in satisfactory condition.

'Sleep Easier'

"Everybody can sleep a little easier tonight," Breier said after Herrington accompanied police to the sites of the attacks on the city's near west side.

Herrington had been questioned in the beating and stabbing of Julia Beckwith, 10, whose body was found Sept. 4 in a vacant lot near her home after she had gone on an errand for a sister.

The body of Sherry Thompson, 18, was found Oct. 17. She had been stabbed 22 times. Breier said Herrington admitted both slayings.

Breier did not comment on the death a week ago of Diane Olkowitz, 19, of Menomonee Falls who was stabbed more than 100 times. Menomonee Falls police Chief Charles Kuhn said he planned to question Herrington.

Stabbed in Back

Breier said Herrington admitted attacking Kathleen Dreyer, 11, as she walked to school Friday. The child, stabbed in the back, told police her assailant fled when she screamed.

Police said Herrington, employed by a tool and die manufacturing firm since July, had been given a job at Milwaukee

Alaska's Egan Puts Guard on State's Ballots

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Gov. William A. Egan, saying the "picture has taken a dramatic turn," Friday night ordered the state patrol to guard all ballots from Tuesday's general election in Alaska.

"There is more than a hope that the present administration will remain in Juneau," said Egan, who last Wednesday conceded defeat to his Republican opponent, Walter J. Hickel, millionaire Anchorage hotelman.

Egan, Democratic chief executive since Alaska gained statehood in 1959, called for the police guard as unofficial returns from remote districts continued to close the gap between the two men.

With 383 of Alaska's 398 precincts reported, Hickel led Egan 30,996 to 29,771 today.

Absentee Ballots

Egan said he understood there are about 3,750 absentee ballots that will be counted Wednesday at the state's four district election offices in Nome, Fairbanks, Anchorage and Juneau. The official state canvass of other ballots starts the same day.

The governor said the police guard would be maintained until the official ballot count is completed. He said he has invited Republicans to provide watchers at district election offices when the ballots are counted by official canvassing board members.

Hickel, long active in Republican party affairs, made his first bid for office this year. He was out of the state today and could not be reached immediately for comment.

Michael J. Herrington, 23, sat Friday night in Milwaukee County Court, where he was charged with first degree murder in the stabbing deaths of two girls since Sept. 4. He also was charged with stabbing Kathleen Dreyer, 11, right, Friday morning. The latest victim was reportedly not in critical condition at a Milwaukee hospital. (AP Wirephoto)

Course Set at Trinity Church

Parents to Study
Communications
Lag With Teens

"For Christian Parents of 10-12 Graders," is the theme of the six-week course which will be offered at Trinity Lutheran Church beginning at 8:50 a.m. this Sunday.

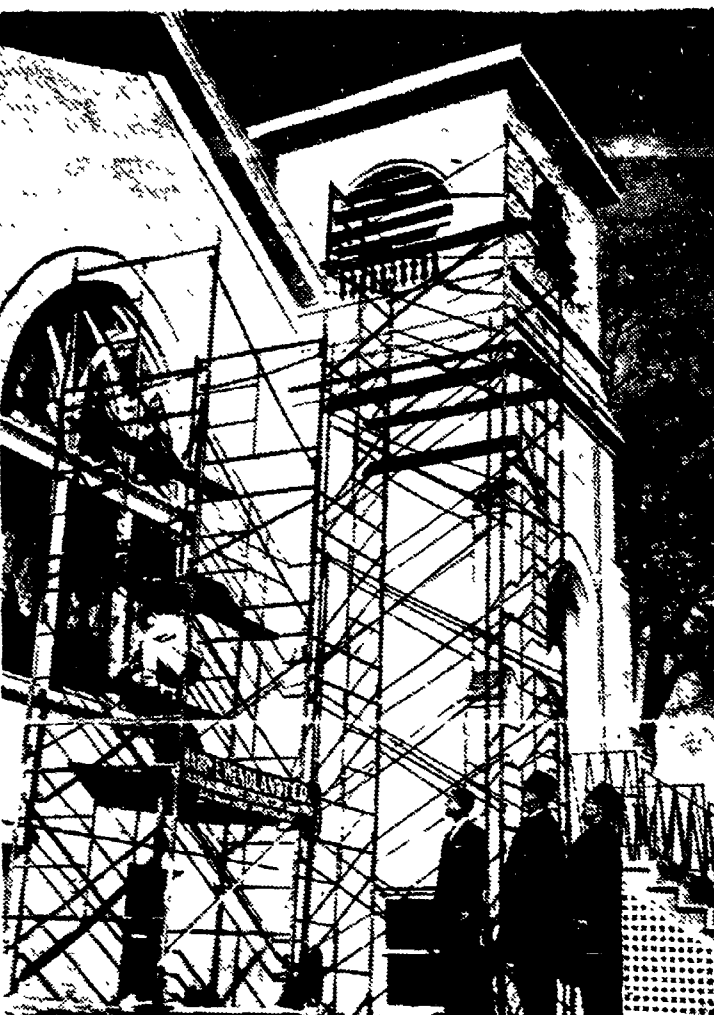

According to the Rev. Ellis Waggoner, assistant pastor who is in charge of the course, the purpose of these classes is to discuss the social revisions which have created a communications lag between parents and adolescents.

"We will try to define the barriers so that the parents can see the problems and try to solve them," he said.

The first discussion will center around the problem teens face and will include such topics as materialism, vocations, an other subject that often causes conflict in the family, will be taken up at the second session.

"Is the Church Meeting the Needs of the Youth?" will be the topic at the third discussion.

"The church is not set up to run social parties for teens but to communicate the Gospel and but to that's what many of the parents

Parish Census Scheduled by Catholic Group

Survey Planned
Sunday Afternoon
In Southwest Area

A religious census to compile a complete list of the members of the parish will be made Sunday afternoon by about 150 members of the new St. Bernard Catholic Parish.

About 900 homes located in an area bounded on the south by the Fox River and Winnebago County Trunk U. on the east by Outagamie Street, on the north by Spencer Street and on the west by U.S. Highway 45, will be involved.

According to the Rev. Orville Janssen, founding pastor of St. Bernard, information recorded on residents living in that area will be turned over to the churches of the proper denomination.

Co-chairmen of the project are John Dwyer and Cliff Williams.

The territory to be surveyed is divided into three sections and 15 subsections, with about 60 homes in each subsection. Volunteer census workers are assigned so no one will have more than 15 calls to make.

Ralph Whitehead, Richard Stack and Robert Bachmann are in charge of the three sections.

Part of the project will begin Sunday morning at the masses, presently conducted at Xavier High School. At that time all parishioners attending will be asked to fill out a form, which don't realize," Pastor Waggoner said.

The fifth session will deal with Christian attitudes toward sex and the whole maturing process. The last session is reserved for the 10 biggest gripes teens have against parents and other adults. These were listed by youths themselves and were written up by Pastor Waggoner in a paper

Ann Advises Irate In-Law Not to Fret Inconsequential

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My mother-in-law is driving me out of my mind. Now that we have a little girl she is always wanting pictures of the four generations. This means her mother, herself, my husband and our little girl. She says, "Loretta, step out, please. This is just our side of the family — four generations, you know." Then she hands the camera to her husband and asks him to take the picture.

This has happened a half dozen times in the past eight months and I am sick of it. What's the answer? — Not Included

Dear Not: What's the question — how to put an end to it? You can't. So step out gracefully, Loretta, and stop eating yourself up over nothing. If a little thing like this can drive you out of your mind, dearie, I must say it's no drive — it's a short putt.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a teen-ager with a heavy heart. Yesterday a friend told me that my parents had to get married because I was on the way. She added, "It was awfully nice of your father to marry your mother. He could have gotten out of it." I was so shocked and hurt I didn't know what to say.

If my mother had told me about this herself I would have felt a lot better. Should I ask her why she kept it from me? Also should I tell my two younger brothers? I don't want them to hear about this family disgrace from a friend, like I did

My parents have been married for 15 years and they seem to get along fine. Please give me some advice. I am crushed. — Born Too Soon.

Dear Born: Don't ask your mother any questions and don't give your brothers any information. Your "friend" has a very big mouth and her aunt's mouth is even bigger.

I don't feel that your mother should have told you about the circumstances of the marriage, so don't hold her silence against her. The important thing is that your parents get along well today. What happened 15 years ago is nobody's business.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Recently an acquaintance and I were having a bite of lunch at a counter. We were discussing a small town with a waitress who had visited here recently.

In the middle of the conversation, a pleasant looking, white-haired man seated himself on the stool next to mine. He said, "Pardon me, but did I hear you say Greenville? I've always had a hankering to live there." He asked some questions about the climate, the people, the cultural advantages and so on. I tried to answer him to the best of my ability.

Suddenly I felt a sharp dig in the side from my lady friend. I glanced at her in surprise. She gave me a dirty look and hissed, "Turn your back on that old fool and talk to ME."

The old gentleman must have heard her because he left without ordering. I was very upset and told her so.

My friend insists the old man was rude to have horned into our conversation, and that I was rude for allowing him to do it. When I took her home she slammed the door in my face and yelled, "Why don't you write to Ann Landers about this?"

So I'm writing. — Puzzled. Dear Puzzled: The old gentleman was obviously a friendly type — and probably lonely. I would not describe him as rude.

But your lady friend was rude — and unfeeling and unpleasant and immature and ill-tempered.

Awkward and self-conscious? Unsure of yourself? Write for Ann Landers' booklet, "The Key To Popularity," enclosing with your request 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Post-Crescent, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Five U.S. Planes Downed in North

mortar bombardment on the 1st Infantry Division command post 17 miles east of Tay Ninh near Dau Tieng. Saigon headquarters said 70 rounds were fired, but reports from the 1st Division scene said about 200 hit the area.

Casualties Light
U.S. headquarters said American casualties were light in all the attacks, revising an earlier announcement which said U.S. forces suffered moderate casualties in one of the shelling. Damage to equipment, mostly helicopters, was described as light also.

Also in the Tay Ninh fighting, ranging 60 to 65 miles northeast of Saigon in War Zone C, U.S. ground forces reported killing 14 Viet Cong Friday and finding 14 more bodies.

This brought to 928 the number of Viet Cong officially reported killed during Operation Attleboro, into which the largest U.S. force of the war has been thrown. Massed against the Viet Cong 9th Division are the equivalent of two U.S. divisions of about 30,000 men.

78 Missions
The five planes shot down over North Viet Nam represented an unusually high percentage inasmuch as American pilots flew only 78 bombing missions Friday, about half the number flown with better weather.

The losses raised to 426 the number of planes reported downed over the north.

The worst single day's losses was last Aug. 7 when seven U.S. planes went down over North Viet Nam.

Of the five shot down Friday, two were Air Force F4C Phantoms with two crew men aboard each. The others were an Air Force F105 Thunderchief, a Marine Corp F8 Crusader and an Air Force propeller-driven Skyraider, each with one flier aboard. Only the Skyraider pilot was rescued.

Ten American nurses assigned to the new 45th Surgical Hospital with the 196th scrambled for cover as the first mortar shells landed.

"We dropped everything, grabbed our helmets and flak jackets and ran to our foxholes," said the chief nurse, Maj. Sara N. Lundy of Brewton, Ala. "All of the nurses were in dugouts within 20 seconds after the first explosion."

None of the nurses fell near the hospital, which has not yet been placed in operation.

Children's Hospital at the suggestion of a social worker after his parole from prison.

Charles Hurst, acting detective inspector, said the car seen driven from the alley where the Dreyer girl was attacked contained "various instruments which are found in hospitals." He did not elaborate.

Seen in Alley

Herrington was seized after witnesses, including school children, provided police with a description of a man seen in the alley where the Dreyer girl was attacked.

The description of a car seen in the alley led to the capture of Herrington at a service station. The child was taken into a home beside the alley and was administered first aid. She then was taken to a hospital where her wounds were described as not critical.

Herrington was named in warrants signed by County Judge Christ T. Seraphim who set bonds totaling $65,000.

WASHINGTON, D.C. — A retraining program for 30 unemployed persons living in the Menominee County redevelopment area has been approved by the Manpower Development and Training Act.

The course will consist of 24 electronics assemblers and six hand coil winders. Seventh District Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Marshfield, said, in making the announcement, that $4,699 will be provided under contract by the Regional Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training to cover the program.

Two Divorces Granted In Outagamie Court

Two divorces have been granted in Outagamie County Court, Branch 1, both on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment.

Mary Drephal, 34, Black Creek, received a divorce from Harlow C. Drephal, 35, Green Bay. Married May 5, 1951, the couple had six children. Determination of support payments was held in abeyance.

Oscar H. Luedtke, 70, Appleton, was divorced by Bernadine Luedtke, 62, 1613 W. Grant St. The couple was married June 20, 1947.

Approval of a settlement was delayed.

had to rely more than intended on help from the ground.

"We're docked," Lovell exclaimed minutes after the re-plan by Aldrin to take terrain and weather pictures from 260 miles above the United States.

They were the fourth pair of Gemini astronauts to accomplish a space linkup, providing additional confidence for later man-to-the-moon flights. Many of the maneuvers executed Friday night were similar to those that Apollo astronauts must make on their return trip from the moon.

Astronauts Take Pictures, Continue Trip

out considerable re-arranging, so the experiment was dropped.

But the Agena problem Friday night resulted in another realignment. It prevented the astronauts from firing the Agena engine to shoot Gemini 12 from a 185-mile to a 460-mile-high orbit.

Flight controllers consulted their computers and found that by carefully firing smaller engines on the Agena they could put Gemini 12 in position for the solar photography.

Lovell Quips

But the open hatch plan could not be worked in.

"So that eclipse got to us after all," Lovell quipped when told of the change in plans.

The Agena firing put the astronauts in a slightly elliptical orbit ranging from 160 to 177 miles — and then they went to sleep early, still docked to the Agena.

The change left Navy Capt. Lovell and Air Force Maj. Aldrin with a busy Saturday schedule.

Shortly after noon, Aldrin planned to open his hatch and poke his head into space to take a series of scientific photographs of stars, to evaluate his ability to perform simple tasks while firmly tethered, and to set up a handrail to help him move about on a space walk scheduled Sunday.

Trouble Detected

Flight director Glynn Lunney reported the Agena fuel pump problem was detected by the ground as the rocket propelled itself into orbit from Cape Kennedy Friday.

He said the trouble was not considered a deterrent to a docking and the Gemini 12 launching went on schedule 99 minutes later, at 3:47 p.m.

Major item lost by the failure to go to the high altitude was a re-plan by Aldrin to take terrain and weather pictures from 260 miles above the United States.

Once airborne, the astronauts flew a near-perfect course in tracking the Agena target across the skies. They caught it during the third orbit after a 64,000-mile chase that took 3 1/2 hours.

Silence From the Ranch

The silence which has emanated from the ranch down in Texas since Tuesday's election is in marked contrast to the rapid-fire series of public announcements which came gushing forth in the days immediately preceding the balloting.

Last week President Johnson arranged to have Secretary of Defense McNamara announce that draft calls would be reduced because troop requirements in Viet Nam were leveling off, then released a report that the nation's economy was still booming and tax increases probably would not be necessary. He lashed out at Richard Nixon for daring to comment on the Manila conference, and took a stand on the right side of the white backlash issue. Each day the Presidential press guns were trained on issues designed to aid Democrats in their bid for election.

But the cross-country political tour Presidential aides had been talking about to follow his return from the Far East suddenly evaporated. The announcement that the President would undergo minor surgery provided a plausible enough reason, and the public certainly could understand that he was exhausted after his trip.

Cow Riots in India

The immense distances between cultures are stunningly revealed in the current riots in various parts of India.

The Hindus have worshiped the cow for centuries. They consider her a symbol of abundance and every cow is regarded as a descendant of Kamadhenu, a heavenly cow who looked like a woman and represented motherhood. Even Gandhi insisted that there should be a ban on the slaughter of cows for economic reasons.

In part this is reasonable. Cows do contribute something toward easing India's always critical food problem, both in the way of milk and in manure for the garden plots. But the millions of aged, diseased and unowned cows who wander at will in the streets and in the grain do exactly the opposite.

U. S. Friendship Fells Erhard

The influence of the United States in the domestic affairs of other countries is often far greater than it appears to be or than it ought to be. The current problem in West Germany in forming a new government is a case in point.

Chancellor Ludwig Erhard remained in power only through a coalition of his own Christian Democratic Party and the Free Democrats. But the latter disagreed with Erhard's plans to raise taxes for a specific purpose to purchase arms from the United States. This in turn was part of an agreement with Washington to help balance the flow of American money to West Germany caused by the stationing of United States troops in West Germany.

When Erhard visited Washington last month he requested of President Johnson a postponement of the offset payments but he was turned down. Erhard quite rightly feared that the issue would cause his Free Democrat ministers to resign. Either President Johnson did not think the matter that serious in West Germany or he considered our own gold drain of greater importance and on the latter point he is probably right.

There are some ominous reports coming from Germany, however, in the aftermath of the collapse of Erhard's regime. National Democrats, a party of

But the failure of the President to comment in any way on the election results leads to the speculation that he had advance warnings of what was going to happen last Tuesday. His political aides, led by Postmaster General O'Brien and Vice-President Humphrey, had been beating the hustings, and the reports they brought back may well have been discouraging.

It now appears that President Johnson was advised not to put his all-out-support for Democratic candidates on the line.

The next two years may well pose quite a contrast to the President's first two years in office. The astute Washington observer, James Marlow, pictures the President as "not quite the same self-assured man who won the presidency overwhelmingly on his own in 1964." He is certain to face tougher opposition in Congress, with the Republican-southern Democrat coalition again in a position to block administration legislation.

And the new leaders for the Republican Party who emerged from this week's elections promise to make things more interesting in the 1968 campaign than could have been anticipated just a few short months ago.

Actually the Indian Home Minister has just extended to all states the ban on cow slaughter so it is a little hard to understand the most recent riots. Indian holy men led the crowds in demonstrations that soon discarded the nonviolent philosophy. A minister resigned. Several people were killed and homes and stores were ransacked and looted. The cows presumably got out of the way.

Obviously changing what has been a most sacred custom for centuries cannot be accomplished in a hurry. At this point it looks as if cow worship will continue in India even if there is widespread famine. Perhaps there is a considerable amount of wisdom in a Hindu nursery rhyme which extols the wonders and uses of the cow and ends with the query, "But of what use are you, O Man?"

practically all the more ultra of right wing groups in West Germany, won unexpected strength in the Hesse state parliament elections and are expected to do even better in Bavaria where they take votes from the Free Democrats. This does not mean the emergence of a new Hitler but memories of that era have not been completely buried.

The West Germans are in a dilemma. As nationalism rises again reunification becomes more important. The Germans do not want to alarm the Russians and they do not yet want the American troops to go home but the fragmentation of political parties, even though reasonably well controlled in Germany, gives strength out of proportion to numbers of extremist groups. When charges of being a lackey of the United States grow into a real issue, the National Democrats could make even greater gains.

Basically the American problem in so much of the world is that we seem to have a great deal of the responsibility without much in the way of authority. But if our demands for payments can make a major government collapse, the power is still awesome. The problem looms even greater when we consider that Chancellor Erhard's government was a moderate and reasonable one and we don't yet know what and who will succeed it.

BY JAMES M. LONG
Associated Press Writer

ROME (AP) — The United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) has made the gloomiest prediction yet on the prospect of a hungry future for mankind.

World food production fell behind population increase last year for the first time. FAO called the situation the most precarious since the dark days at the end of World War II.

With population expected to double by the end of the century, a representative of U.N. Secretary General U. Thant came here to tell FAO that the future prospect was causing grave concern at the United Nations.

FAO experts told him: "No revolution in agricultural production that we can conceive of will bring adequate food supplies for the population expanding at this rate. The resources of the earth can scarcely cope with this."

NO MORE FOOD

FAO's report on the state of food and agriculture in 1966 said the world's population rose by 70 million last year. But no additional food was grown to feed them. It meant there was an average of two per cent less to eat for everyone on earth.

That trend is expected to increase as the world moves deeper into the gravest hunger crisis mankind has ever known.

FAO's tentative forecast for the 1966-67 season predicted some improvement over 1965-66. But FAO warned that any such increase would be "far less" than the seven per cent gains needed in most countries to win back to the 1964-65 level of production.

U.S. reserve wheat stocks are expected to drop to their lowest level in more than a decade, reducing the margin for even emergency aid in case of threatened famine.

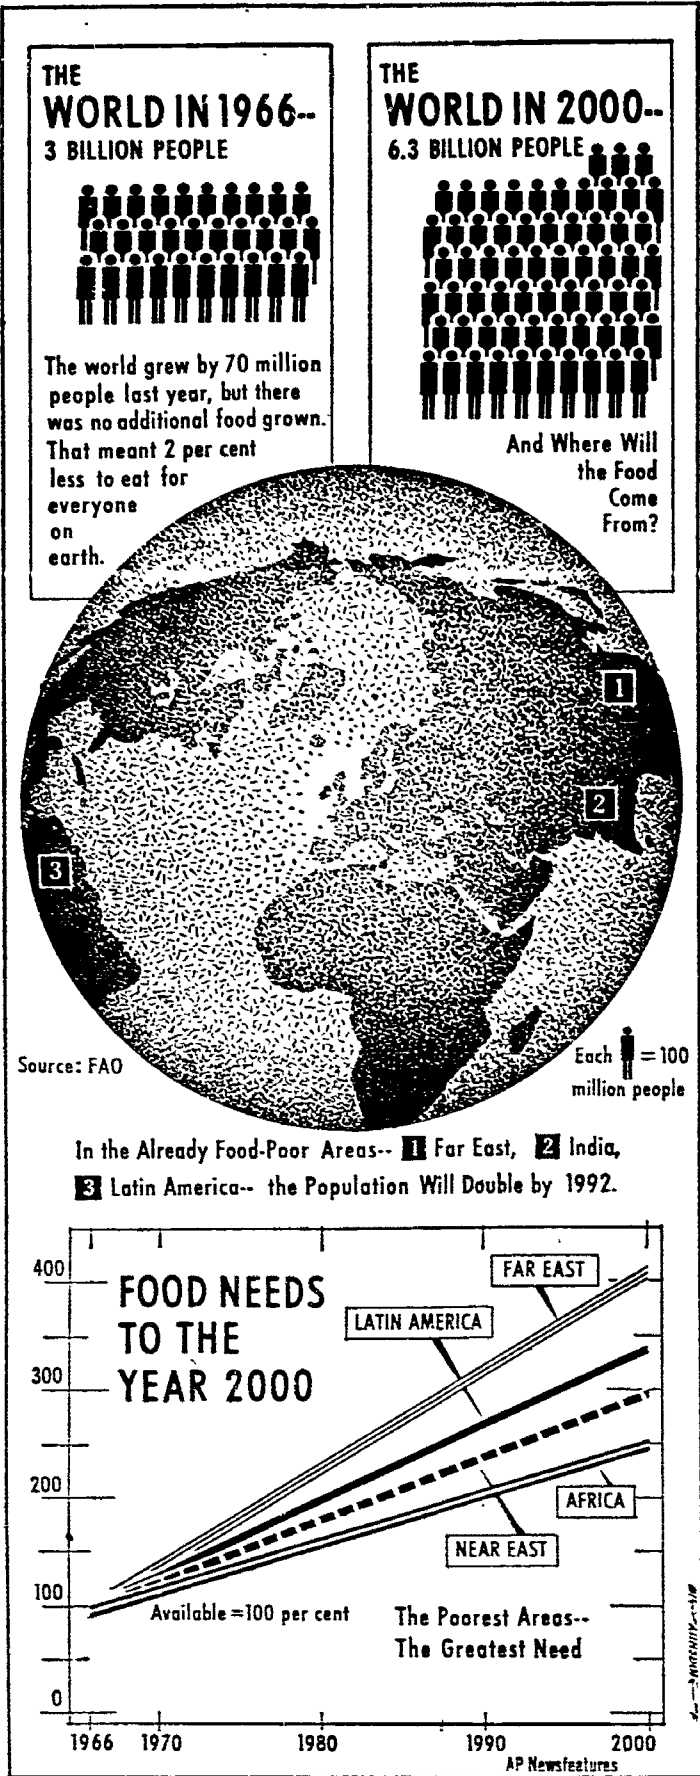

The situation is all the more critical because the greatest population increases and the lowest food production gains are in the areas of the world where hunger already is being felt the worst.

The world's population is expected to rocket from something over three billion now to well over six billion in 32 to 34 years — by the end of the century.

POPULATION DOUBLES

But it is estimated that the population will double in less than that time — within 24-28 years — in the Far East, India, Latin America and the developing countries of Africa. That is where tens of millions already are badly undernourished.

And that is where food production gains are expected to fall the most sharply below population increase.

The smallest population gains and the greatest food supplies per capita are expected in North America, Europe and Oceania (Australia-New Zealand) where most people already are adequately fed.

Last year, when world food production per capita dropped two per cent, FAO reports showed increases up to four per cent in North America, and one per cent in Western Europe.

There were drops of six per cent in Oceania, four to five per cent in Africa, the far East and Latin America — except for the River Plate countries of Argentina, Uruguay and Paraguay — and about one per cent in Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union.

FAO's forecast for the 1966-67 season was much the same, except for considerable gains in Canada and the Soviet Union and some gains in Eastern Europe.

The position in Western Europe, most of Latin America and the more productive parts of the Near East is expected to remain relatively unchanged. Some losses, particularly in wheat, were foreseen for the United States.

Further losses were expected in Africa and the far East, except for Japan.

Majority Is Backing Mayor on Budget Cut

Editor, Post-Crescent:

I could not help but notice that recent letters to The Post-Crescent urging the replacing of that famous $300,000 in the school budget have all followed an identical pattern — almost as though somebody made up an outline and distributed it to friends to follow in their letter writing. By checking in the city directory, I find that the signers are almost without exception connected with the Institute of Paper Chemistry or some part of the school system. In other words, they all have an ax to grind.

Doesn't Dr. Roy Whitney, a school board member, hold an official position at the Institute? The city directory says he does. These letters also include one from one Perry Brown who wrote to you recently in favor of not deleting anything from the school budget. I have since determined that his daughter, Mrs. Betty Ducklow, is on the school payroll for doing "publicity" for the school system. Talk about "selfish interests!"

As a former school teacher in the Appleton system for more than 17 years, I do have personal knowledge of much unnecessary spending of our hard earned tax money under the guise of a better education for our children. What do we need with all these resource teachers, coordinators and guidance counselors? Is the school board trying to build an empire? The school payroll is so overloaded now that $300,000 could be clipped out simply by letting unneeded personnel go. Pretty soon we'll need a chief coordinator to coordinate the coordinating of all the coordinators.

I sincerely believe that the city's budget committee has done a most admirable job on the budget to date. I believe that Mayor Buckley has taken the proper stand in defending the actions of the finance committee that he appointed. It was Mr. Charles Buchanan, the President of the School Board, who started the whole fracas by making remarks to the effect "What are they doing to the children of Appleton?" Mayor Buckley's answer is now history but I remember that a part of it was that "all we are doing is supplying them with the plushiest school system in the state of Wisconsin." No one recently has come to Mayor Buckley's defense in the People's Forum and he, certainly, is too busy to come to his own defense. But I would like to defend his position. I endorsed his candidacy when he ran and I worked for his election. He was elected by a healthy majority of the people of Appleton. Shall the school board tell us now that the majority of the people of Appleton are wrong? The vast majority of the people that I see every day are with Mayor Buckley stronger than ever.

The whole situation is simply a case of the school system, a highly organized minority, trying to control the thinking of the people of Appleton, a completely disorganized majority. Mayor Buckley represents the majority and he is speaking for us. Too long has education been a sacred cow — one of the untouchables — and the war cry has been "Give the kids the best of everything: give them the most expensive equipment that can be purchased." Mayor Buckley took a good look at that sacred cow and belted her across the head with a 2x4. Naturally, that cow is going to let out a moo that can be heard all the way from Harris Street to the city limits. We can only hope that the city council does not listen.

Kentucky Police Get Grant for Training

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky State Police have received a federal grant — first of its kind — to train local police officers in four intensive quarterly classes. They say it could become a national blueprint for upgrading small police forces.

Tax Redistribution In State Is Really A Political Mirage

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The attack on the prevailing method of distributing state shared taxes to localities, the major current political enterprise of Mayor Henry Maier and his city of Milwaukee administration, is essentially an indictment of the distribution of the state income tax which has withstood similar assaults many decades.

There is talk about the utility tax and a few other minor levies. But these won't achieve the boons of local property tax relief in Milwaukee about which its mayor is dreaming so optimistically. They are minor elements of the state-local fiscal scheme. If the Milwaukee city hall could redistribute all of the utility taxes in a fashion best suited to its officials, the chances are that the effect on the local tax structure would be invisible to the average local resident.

The real target is the income tax distribution system, which is in fact the second most important income source of local government in the state. For years it has been based on the assumption that the domicile of the income taxpayer should be the rule for the allocation of the locality's share of the yield.

HISTORY OF DISTRIBUTION
The Wisconsin income tax was one of the first to be levied in this country. It was originally conceived as primarily a local revenue source, because as it was enacted, the legislature knocked out several local levies traditionally used for local government financing.

The local share of the state-assessed income tax was intended to replace the personal property tax on intangibles, such as bank accounts, securities and others, as well as household furnishings.

Because those levies were based upon residents of the localities involved, the legislature automatically and perhaps reasonably concluded that the replacement money should also be distributed according to its origin, that is, according to the residence of the taxpayer, personal or corporate. Since that basic pattern of distribution was established, the ratio of distribution has been altered many times. The successive changes retained more of the receipts for the state treasury, especially in recent years with increasing pressures for direct state "aids" to localities according to their financial ratings. Yet even today the statute which levies the income tax and provides for its administration calls it the "state-local" income tax.

SOME WANT MORE

Mayor Maier and his men have not yet said what formula they would use to replace the place of origin rule for the return of income tax shares. But they have made it clear that they want a system that will give them more. They have strongly implied in their public discussions that a per capita distribution rule would be preferred.

That would probably reduce radically the sums now paid to some of the Milwaukee suburbs, and similar suburbs elsewhere, which are getting comparatively generous shares because they contain a comparatively high ratio of high income taxpayers. But it will be hard for Milwaukee, the industrial center of the state, to argue against a similar distribution per capita of corporate income taxes, and in such a situation, the industrialized city would obviously lose. Perhaps the only real gainers under a straight per capita distribution would be the small rural town, which is one of the reasons why the founders of the Wisconsin Towns Association held out that kind of a carrot to prospective dues-payers.

State tax redistribution as a panacea for Milwaukee tax problems is a political mirage. Tax relief through such means would require the pumping into the city of such huge sums that many other communities would be affected adversely. Their influence will stifle any cries, in legislative power terms, of the Milwaukee city hall officers who are obviously concerned about constituent reaction as they prepare a new budget with another round of local tax increases.

Christianity More Matter Of Heart Than of Mind

Editor, Post-Crescent:

The minds of many Christian followers carry this dreaded thought, "If we destroy or discredit a part of the Bible, then how can we accept the rest with complete trust?"

Knowledge serves as a map for us by which we can find our way, as we approach the truth. You can check the scale of absolute truth or partial truth by searching through books outside, as well as inside, the church libraries. This takes personal effort. Historical knowledge and science has, tested and limited the credit which the Bible once carried. Education will help us arrive at a fuller truth by turning toward the new methods of inquiry of all questions.

This point of view was made by Earl Nightingale in his article, "Our Changing World." "Most people seem to resent and fear change. They seem to be basically suspicious of anything new or different and suppose it will be for the worse. They cling to beliefs that were vogue when they were young, but which have long been disproved in the light of additional knowledge. It is no longer necessary to follow the follower in half-truths, superstitions, outmoded beliefs and so on." Many people attend church services for social reasons. An outstanding social worker commented, "It helps a person's business to be seen entering and leaving the church."

Religion is a way of life which man's feelings and believing holds certain things to be sacred. Various religions are simply the different languages which brings a God to the human heart. He can be a savage or a civilized man. What you have been taught to accept as true, can be equally unreal to the devotees of other faiths. What are the principles of "each" side? Christianity has been more a matter of the heart than of the mind. And yet — we are well aware, it has always been in competition with other faiths and has become strangled in its own 250 branches.

This statement is made by Abraham Keplan in his book, "The New World of Philosophy." "It is a mistake, and a dangerous one, to suppose that everyone who sees things differently than we do must either be a fool or rascal. We must not lock ourselves in the absolutism of our own perspectives. The process of education in general does not consist in replacing one set of beliefs by another, but rather in transforming our reasons for believing. This leaves a wide range for choice. Faith is not an object but a condition in the faithful. Knowledge is the curiosity about the "facts" that grows deeper by what it feeds on, and uncovers the reasons for the attention it has drawn."

Democrats Gain in Legislature

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Nov. 18, 1866.

The State Senate consists of 33 members, of whom 16 were chosen at the late election.

Of this number the Democracy (Democrats) have elected five and the Regency (Republicans) 11. This is a Democratic gain of two members, one in Waukesha County, one in the Outagamie district.

The whole Senate now consists of 10 Democrats and 23 "Union" men. (Union another term for GOP just as the "regency" was a derogatory term for the Republicans in power).

The Assembly consists of 100 members. Last year the regency numbered 67, the Democrats 33. This year the Madison Journal claims but 54 for the Regency and 39 Democrats, with seven districts to hear from.

25 YEARS AGO

Saturday, Nov. 8, 1941.

Berlin, raid-free since the previous Sept. 20, was subjected to a long siege of bombing in the Royal Air Force's heaviest offensive. New bombers stormed the continent from Norway to France while raiders in a synchronized assault from African bases attacked Italy.

Fred Gehrke was elected president of the Appleton Lions Club. Other officers included E. W. Shannon and Gordon A. Bubolz, vice presidents; and Dr. George A. Douglas, Earl D. Miller, Thorwald Sherry and Edwin H. Manning, directors.

Mrs. William Playman and John Hammer, both of Appleton, and George Koons, Kimberly, were assigned the lead roles in the old-fashioned mellerdrammer, "Every Inch a Sailor," featured program of the Gay Nineties party being planned by the Service Circle of King's Daughters.

10 YEARS AGO

Saturday, Nov. 10, 1955.

John A. Geiger was re-elected chairman of the Menasha Chapter of the American Red Cross. Mrs. Ronald Becker was named vice chairman and James Howley secretary-treasurer.

Making plans for the annual Holy Name dinner at St. Therese Church, Appleton, were James Felker, banquet chairman; Mrs. Clifton Hughes, president of the Christian Mothers Society; Gregg Schulte, Holy Name president; Mrs. Herbert Stingle, Mrs. Chester DeNoble, Mrs. August Spreutels, Mrs. Harold Edlebeck and Mrs. Orville Meltz.

Neenah Mayor George Sande received the traveling plaque symbolic of the city's winning voting participation over Menasha in the election that week. James Stauff, president of the Neenah-Menasha Junior Chamber of Commerce, donors of the trophy, made the presentation. The Tuesday election tallies showed that 87.5 per cent of Neenah's registered voters cast their ballots, edging out the city of Menasha with 86 per cent of its voters recording their choices.

Carport Floor Has 'Fragile' Mushroom Rug

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa (AP) — Mushrooms bursting their way through a layer of tar are taking over the carport of Mrs. Mary Hall.

Mrs. Hall had a tar flooring laid down in the carport at her home in suburban Mill Park here last December.

"A few weeks later," she said, "mushrooms started exploding through the tar. 'We had the damaged pieces of tar repaired twice but the mushrooms kept coming and I finally decided to let them do as they wish.'"

A municipal council official said the mycelium or spawn of the mushroom was probably present in the ground before the tar was laid.

"The mushroom is fragile but it shows what extraordinary pressure it can exert when conditions for growth are favorable," he said.

Unfortunately for Mrs. Hall, the mushrooms are not an edible type.

Jingo's Gleeful Over This Week's Top 20

'Lucy Show' Zooms to First Place, but More Significant Four Specials Included

BY JINGO
Lucille Ball's concern over the competition of "Rat Patrol" may now be officially ended. Last week's (Oct. 30-Nov. 4) American Research Bureau's television ratings disclosed "The Lucy Show" was the most-watched series of the week.

Jingo

The week was also notable for two other developments — four specials made the top 20 and CBS' domination came to an abrupt halt.

The specials included NBC's "Ice Follies" (No. 4), CBS' "Miss Teen-age America" (No. 9) ABC's "Hans Christian Andersen" (No. 16) and CBS' "National Geographic Special" (No. 17).

Where in the past, CBS could be expected to have anywhere from 11 to 13 series listed in the top 20, last week the net had eight — the same as NBC. ABC had four.

Series Lose Out

For the first time since the new season began eight weeks ago, no new series began the top 20. That is certainly sorry publicity for the quality of the new season.

Jingo was also quite happy that the "National Geographic Special," dealing with famed anthropologist Dr. Louis S. B. Leakey, made the top 20. It was a great show.

Network feature movies had three entries among the elite, but CBS' Thursday and Friday night films failed to make the chart, though in the past these were among the highest rated. Jingo felt "Fail-Safe" and "First Men in the Moon" would have wide appeal, but one never knows.

Best Liked Shows

The complete top 20:

1—"Lucy Show"; 2—"Bonanza"; 3—"Red Skelton"; 4—"Ice Follies"; 5—"Andy Griffith"; 6—"Tuesday Night Movie" ("40 Pounds of Trouble"); 7—"Ed Sullivan"; 8—"Miss Teenage America"; 9—"Sunday Night Movie" ("The Prize");

11—"Beverly Hillsbillies"; 12—"Lawrence Welk"; 13—"The Virginian" (partially pre-empted by return of President Johnson from Asia); 14—"Green Acres"; 15—"Daniel Boone"; 16—"Hans Christian Andersen"; 17—"National Geographic Special"; 18—"Saturday Night Movie" ("Roman Holiday"); 19—"Get Smart"; 20—"Peyton Place I."

The inclusion of "Get Smart" and "Daniel Boone" marked the first time these popular hold-overs broke into the top 20 this season.

Almost Made it
NFL fans will be happy to know that the special Monday night telecast of the Chicago Bears-St. Louis Cardinals game barely missed the top 20. It was No. 21.

While some critics contend The Lawrence Welk Show is in that 1966-67 television season will be remembered as the barren year for new shows, Jingo feels the historians will look back on this as the year of the special. Why, not? The unexciting regular slate offers little and the special often appears as a welcome relief.

CBS has announced the cancellation of "Run, Buddy, Run," following the Jan. 2 episode. It will be replaced by "Mr. Terrific," a half-hour situation comedy starring Steve Strimling, John McGiver and Dick Gautier.

On NBC, the "Roger Miller Show" will also end Jan. 2. Its successor will be "Captain Nice," a half-hour satiric comedy-adventure series starring Bill Daniels and Ann Prentiss.

Both new series begin Jan. 9.

It's London On the Gleason Show

BY TV SCOUT

6:30-7:30 (Channels 2-7-12) — It's London for "The Honey-mooners" and a bloomin' good time on The Jackie Gleason Show. Engaging musical numbers — "Everything Stops For Tea" is especially witty — and some broad comedy by Gleason and Art Carney are show stoppers. At one point, Carney thinks Buckingham Palace is occupied by Elizabeth and Richard; at another he thinks Lady Godiva was the original "White Knight." The zaniness continues until the boys and their wives (Sheila MacRae and Jane Kean) join them in a devastating Flakay Wakay commercial for British TV.

4:55-5:30 (Channels 11-6-9) — Wide World of Sports invades the training camps of Cassius Clay and Cleveland Williams for interviews with the boxers on their thoughts about their upcoming heavyweight championship fight. There are also film clips of the National "500" Stock Car Championship in Charlotte, N.C. and the World Lumberjack Championships in Hayward, Wis.

6:30-7:30 (Channels 11-6-9) — Shane provides a somewhat different insight into the habits of marauding Indians. This episode begins on a happy note (the Starets and Shane are on their way to a REAL party, with dancing and everything), has a melodramatic interlude and then winds up on a gay if not thoughtful conclusion. High point is when some Indians steal Marian's party dress and Tom's garters.

7:30-8 (Channels 4-5) — "Rub-a-Dub-Dub, Three Spies in a Sub" on Get Smart is often as childish as a nursery rhyme. Yet there is some brittle (and adult?) satire. Agents 86 and 99 on a "suicide mission" go underwater to knock out a KAOS computer. Some funny business as Don Adams becomes the warhead for a torpedo.

7:30-8:30 (Channels 11-6-9) — The Lawrence Welk Show is in

'I Had the Material,' Says Modest Meixl Of Rockets' Success

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ben Meixl, coach of the Neenah Rockets — the state's top-ranked high school football team — plays down his own accomplishments and gives the credit to his players. "I had the material. There was no question about that," said Meixl, who succeeded in the delicate mission of replacing Harland Carl at the Neenah helm. Carl, a former Wisconsin star now on the Badger coaching staff, had a four-year record of 27-3-2 at Neenah. Under Carl, the Rockets won four straight conference crowns. Meixl, who stepped up from the assistant ranks, was under no illusions. "We wouldn't mind if you lose one ball game," he boasted to the new coach.

yards. Most of his throws were long ones. His completions were good for about 20 yards on the average.

Losse headed a backfield that included halfbacks Chuck Wismer and Tom Bachhuber and fullback Dan Meyer.

Wisner had a 9.1 rushing average and 14 touchdowns. Bachhuber, like Wismer a defensive back as well, had a 6.5 rushing average and 11 touchdowns.

Dan Jankowski, another basketball player, was a standout at end, grabbing 13 passes and turning four of them into touchdowns. Jankowski, the only junior to start on offense, also kicked two field goals and had 31 extra points. Guard Jim Fetter was the top blocker. The defense was led by the linebacking corps of Bob Pierce, Kevin Milliken and John O'Brien.

U. S. Golfers 26-Under in 'Canada Cup'

Continue Blistering Team Pace; Knudson Individual Leader

TOKYO (AP) — George Knudson, the dapper Canadian, stretched his lead on Arnold Palmer to four strokes at the end of the third round of the Canada Cup international golf classic today as the United States took a strangle hold on the team championship.

Knudson shot 32-34-66 over the chilly, windy Yomiuri course giving him an eye-popping 64-66-198 for 54 holes, 18 under par. Palmer shot 34-35-69 for 66-67-69-202 as he saw his one-stroke deficit of Friday widen disastrously. Par for the 6,962-yard hilly course is 72.

Still in individual contention was Hideyo Sugimoto, the big Japanese professional who is playing his home course. He shot 32-36-68 for 66-69-68-203, second nationally in all-time scores of the United States, with his best round yet, 34-33-67. This gave him 69-68-67-204. The combination of Nicklaus' and Palmer's mighty sub-par bowled the all-time Wisconsin record in the Bennis, Washington, D.C.; ABC Rooter Major League at Sheboygan. It topped the previous state Los Angeles: ABC high score of 854 set by Frankie Andrews committee chairman Benkovik of Milwaukee in 1938 Joe Robelotto, Albany, N.Y., and Raymond V. If pre-season basketball seniors are accurate, defending champion Appleton Xavier could well garner its sixth consecutive unanimous choice for seventh. The Squires of coach Don La Violette lost all five starters. Don Gosz was selected "Coach of the Year" for leading his Fond du Lac St. Mary's Springs team to a tie for third place in 1955, and he will have to perform magic this year if the Ledges are to avoid the conference basement. Fond du Lac was a unanimous selection for the cellar.

The Hawks will miss the graduated all-conference forward, Mike Heideman, who finished third in the conference scoring battle with 238 points, but welcome the fifth place scorer back in Gene Jack. The 5-11 senior averaged 15.8 points per game in the conference.

Clark has a big man in senior Heinritz, (6-3). Tom Heinritz, (6-0) is slated to return to a guard post, while the other slot should go to senior Terry Graff (6-0). Patami Hurricanes, who usually rely on a brawling defense, finally found a scoring punch Friday night against Pittsburgh, trampling a weak Panther team, 38-14.

Quarterback Bill Miller, sidelined two games back because his wild passing was giving Coach Charlie Tate a bad case of nerves, came off the bench and probably won his job back with a sterling performance. Miller hit 13 of 16 passes for 195 yards, threw for one touchdown, ran for another and allowed no interceptions in two quarters of work.

When he turned the job back to David Olivo, the score was 31-0.

"This is the first game since Colorado that we didn't have to sweat right down to the wire," said Tate. "Miller looked great. He regained his confidence and poise."

Fine Defense Scoring only one touchdown in each of the last five games, Miami still managed to beat fifth-ranked Southern California and then undefeated Georgia. And all the credit belonged to one of the country's finest defensive units.

And the defense again was impregnable against Pitt, until Tate dipped into his reserves with the score 38-0 and found he didn't have much back there. They gave up 14 points on a 36-yard pass from Ed James to Bob Longo and a 15-yard run by Jav McCune after a blocked punt.

"Miami outmanned us, out-gunned us, outplayed us," said

Establish Rules For Title Bout

Three-Knockdown Provision Waived For Clay, Williams

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The three knockdown rule in any one round will not apply in the heavyweight title fight Monday night between champion Cassius Clay and Cleveland Williams.

This and other rules were adopted Thursday at a meeting of officials of the Texas Boxing Commission and representatives of the two fighters.

Other rules include the mandatory eight-count in which a boxer knocked down must take an eight-count before continuing the fight. The chief official will be the referee who will have full responsibility and give a final decision.

The match will be scored by the 10-point must system. The action on the three knock-down rule pleased Clay.

"That's good," he said. "I like it because I could get knocked down for real once and for real twice and then slip and fall. Two points will be deducted for fouls.

Clay's trainer, Angelo Dundee, had said he believed no fighter should win the title on a foul and that a "no-foul" rule should apply in a title fight. Alton Erickson, the state boxing director, disagreed and the officials adopted a rule which also allows the referee to be the sole judge in this case.

ABC Committee Gathers Data On Sheboygan Bowler's Mark

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A special committee will meet at ABC headquarters here Saturday to consider official recognition of the 876 series bowled Oct. 26 by Carl Wilsing of Sheboygan, Wis.

The total, which included games of 298, 300 and 278, ranks second nationally in all-time sanctioned ABC league competition to the 886 bowled by Allie Brandt of Lockport, N.Y., in 1939.

The 56-year-old Wilsing bowled the all-time Wisconsin record in the Bennis, Washington, D.C.; ABC Rooter Major League at Sheboygan. It topped the previous state Los Angeles: ABC high score of 854 set by Frankie Andrews committee chairman Benkovik of Milwaukee in 1938 Joe Robelotto, Albany, N.Y., and Raymond V. ## Arizona Prep Coach Jokes About Aiding Lombardi With T-Formation

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Ed job, handling the offensive backfield for Frank Leahy at ball team heads toward an undefeated season, likes to joke about the time he helped Vince Lombardi install the T-formation at Notre Dame in 1946.

"We had John Lujack, George Ratterman and Frank Tripucka with the varsity," said Doherty. "Bob Williams was coming up, and two kids on the sidelines could play anywhere. Need I recall a 20-year coaching career which included backfield jobs at Notre Dame and the Philadelphia Eagles.

At little St. Mary's High School, Doherty needs a sense of humor.

"This is pure coaching with-out any outside interference," Doherty says.

When your team has an 8-0 record it's little more than a laughing matter that it's necessary for the school principal to drive the team's bus, and the squad practices "where it can find a field."

Only 300 Boys

St. Mary's, with only 300 boys, is undersized for the class competition it plays — about the toughest in Arizona — but has gained an almost certain berth in the post-season playoffs.

"Oh sure, we have a play-man and put rookie offensive line-der water," said Doherty. "but Walker will be playing his mostly it's just a matter of load-der kids in a bus and driving Washington Sunday although he has been around since the start of the 1965 National Football League season. He has taken all the World War II years, this is a time to recover from a leg far cry from his first coaching injury.

Walker Up From Dallas Taxi Squad; Sandeman On Injury Reserve List

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys took steps today to relieve a situation caused by injuries.

They called up Malcolm Walker from the taxi squad to serve as utility offensive line-der water," said Doherty. brdi was coaching St. Cecilia's High School in New Jersey and Doherty was taking PT-boat training at Brooklyn Navy Yard.

"Lombardi was using the old Notre Dame box and I stayed overnight to explain the T-formation to him," said Doherty, who learned the formation under Denny Myers at Boston College.

Doherty has had his coaching successes — leading Arizona State to two post-season Salad Bowl appearances in 1949 and 1950 — but always hated recruiting.

"You could resurrect Knute Rockne, but if he didn't have a big recruiting budget he wouldn't win," said Doherty. "Colleges play with a bunch of hired hands today."

So after resigning his Xavier post in 1961, Doherty turned his back on pressure-cooker college coaching for the high school ranks. "I like it better and even the pay's getting better," he said.

Doherty took over the out-manned, undersized St. Mary's team two years ago. It had stumbled to a miserable 1-8 record the year before.

"When I saw these kids I made two decisions," said Doherty. "First we would have to limit contact work and second, they would have to wear their pads all the time."

"Without their pads on, some of the players looked so scrawny I knew I would be afraid to play them for fear they'd get hurt," he said.

Never more than two-deep in any position, St. Mary's has waded through the toughest part of its schedule on aggressiveness and spirit and as one coaching colleague puts it, with "a hell of a coaching job."

But he played eight innings of the first two games and said his knee buckled in the third. "I decided then I could no longer stay on the tour," he said.

When Dodgers boss Walter O'Malley refused to let Wills return to Los Angeles, the plucky player left anyway.

"Rather than walk back into the thing in Los Angeles," said Wills, "I went to Honolulu for a rest."

He declined to speculate whether any disciplinary action loomed ahead, saying he had not talked to O'Malley or anyone else in the Dodger organization since his return.

Main Concern

"My main concern," he said, "is getting in shape for next season so I can play the kind of ball I know I can play."

Meanwhile, Wills takes a daily trot in the hills near his home and said he has purchased a set of weights.

He also conceded that he has several night club offers to perform with his banjo.

"That's the way I relax," he said. "Anytime I have a worry I just pick up my banjo and soon I don't have a care in the world."

Task Force Sets Guidelines For Revising ORAP in State

MADISON (AP) — Guidelines for revising the Outdoor Recreation Act Program were set Friday as a governor's task force crystallized for the first time a written policy for the five-year old law.

The task force was set up by Gov. Warren P. Knowles to study ways of updating the program which uses cigarette tax funds to acquire public outdoor recreational lands.

The statement on policy, was unanimously approved. It said "all leisure time activities on public use areas of the state" are included under the term of "public outdoor recreation." This includes most recreational activities.

Scott said the policy statement makes it clear the state would not develop lands within the boundaries of cities and villages. Few restrictions are provided for acquiring and developing lands elsewhere in the state.

Scott noted municipalities would be eligible for financial aids. In addition, aid would be available for technical planning assistance and coordination of municipal-recreation projects.

One new feature of the proposal is the extension to private commercial ventures of the opportunity to receive aids for developing recreational areas.

The recommendations of the task force, far from complete, will be presented to the 1967 legislative session.

Cars Collide Head-on in Town of Neenah

Neither Driver Hurt Seriously; Occurred On County Trunk A

NEENAH — An Oshkosh man and an Appleton man both were injured when the cars they drove collided on County Trunk A, just north of County Trunk G in the Town of Neenah at 5:52 p.m. Friday.

Jay C. Berger, 25, Oshkosh, received a head cut and Glen H. Gruett, 26, of 513 S. Buchanan St., Appleton, received a head cut and neck injuries in the accident.

Winnebago County police said Gruett was driving north on County Trunk A, then pulled into a driveway on the east side of the road. He then backed across the road onto the west shoulder, intending to turn and head south, he told police.

Gruett said Berger was headed north along County Trunk A and passing another northbound car. He said Berger braked hard, lost control and slid into Gruett's car "almost head-on."

School Costs Mushroom in Last 5 Years

NEENAH — With figures that tell much of the story of rising school costs, the Neenah Joint School District pointed out in its bulletin Friday that in five years school costs have risen 161 per cent.

In 1961 the district budget was $1.4 million. In 1966 it was $3.7 million and the proposed budget for next year tops $4 million.

During the same five-year period from 1961 to 1966, the number of students in the system went from 3,854 to 6,509, for a jump of 69.8 per cent.

The number of school buildings rose from nine to 17 and the number of district employees, including teachers, increased from 181 to 383.

Waushara Asks 4-County Vocational School District

WAUTOMA — The Waushara County Board unanimously elected Thursday to accept the invitation of Winnebago County to join with Outagamie and Waupaca counties to form four county district vocational, technical and adult districts on county lines.

The resolution was introduced by former county chairman Harold Madison, Poyippi, George Sorenson and James Buchanan, Jr., and received 18 votes in favor from board members. One member of the board, William Lewis, Menasha real estate broker, and William Suren, director of the Oshkosh Vocational and Adult School, were on hand at the Waushara County board meeting Thursday.

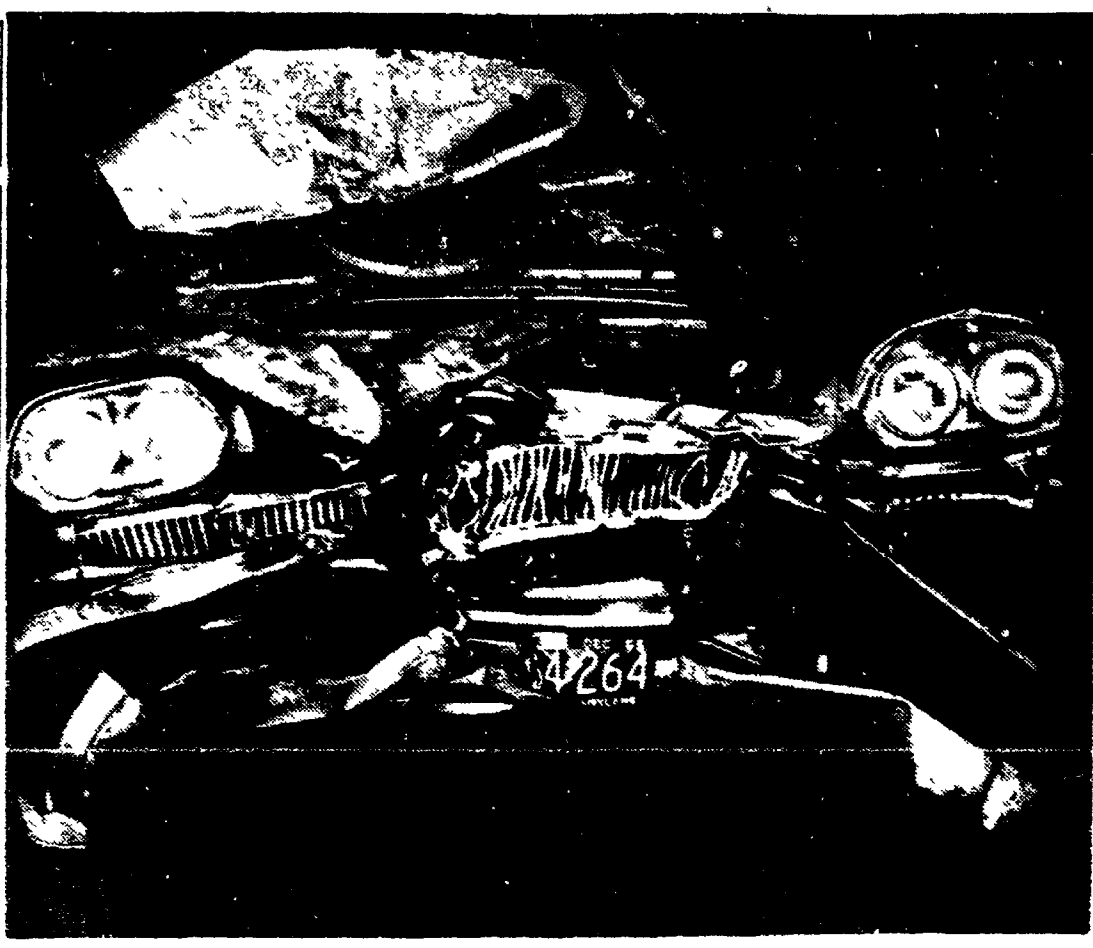

Winnebago County board members passed a resolution on Oct. 31 asking that it be joined with Waushara, Waupaca and Outagamie counties, on county lines to form an area district for post-high school technical training on or before July, 1970.

This intent is filed with the state vocational board and the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education.

Members of a "fact-finding committee," including Russell Williams, Oshkosh attorney; William Lewis, Menasha real estate broker, and William Suren, director of the Oshkosh Vocational and Adult School, were on hand at the Waushara County board meeting Thursday to answer questions of board members.

Taxpayers Association Analysis

Junior High, Salaries Up School Costs

NEENAH — The operation of a new junior high school for a full year instead of one-third of a year, salary increases and increased enrollments are largely responsible for the nearly $500,000 increase in the Neenah 1967 school budget, according to an analysis by the Neenah-Menasha Taxpayers Association.

The association then pointed out that most of the burden would fall on the local taxpayer. To minimize the effect of the added costs on the property owner, the association recommended that the budget be cut by $57,950.

The principal portion of the proposed cut comes in the category of instruction. This category showed a total increase of $371,570 and the association recommended that it be cut back $35,450.

The two areas singled out for reconsideration were the addition of 30 staff members to the system in 1967 and the budget increase allowed for substitute teachers. The actual Neenah student to teacher ratio is now 25 to 1, the exact figure recommended by the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction. In the senior high school, slated in the budget for eight more teachers, the association called for an addition of only five, making the point that acceptable student-teacher ratios are then still possible.

In Conant Junior High School, the same line of reasoning was used to recommend cutting the teacher increase from three to two and in Mann Junior High School from four to three.

The taxpayers group added that their recommendations were supported by the fact that Neenah ranks fourth among nine comparable systems in the number of staff members per student.

In the area of supervisory personnel, Neenah also ranked fourth. And this was before the addition last September of 2.5 more principal positions.

Principals' salaries, the analysis said, rise $25,663 to $153,117 in the proposed budget, much of the rise attributed to the addition of the new positions. Some $4,500 of the hike was due to merit increases and salary schedule changes for principals.

Burglar Hits Station Fifth Time

Neenah Break-in Yields $35 From Vending Machines

NEENAH — A persistent burglar struck again early Friday — the fifth time in as many weeks — and took about $35 from the vending machines at Milford's Service Station, 720 Main St.

Police reported the circumstances in the recent break-in were similar to the other burglaries. A window in the rear door was broken and someone crawled through the opening. Once inside the building, he released the tire changing mechanism which secured the door.

The pop and candy machines were pried open and the burglar took the change.

Milford Herreid, owner of the station, reported the incident to police shortly before 7 a.m. Friday.

New Look Requested for County Black and White Sheriff Cars

OSHKOSH — Winnebago County squad cars may have a new look very soon. The traditional black squad car with a white top will be abandoned, on a trial basis, in favor of an off-white car with contrasting doors.

The change was recommended by Sheriff Marvin Peppler who told the Sheriff and Coroner Committee Wednesday night that the black squad cars can be washed and "one hour later look dirty again."

The committee, which approved bids for the purchase of three new squad cars, agreed to go along with Peppler's recommendation. No decision was made as to what color the doors will be although red was suggested.

Liberty Dodge of Oshkosh submitted the lone bid for the cars at $2,820 each. Net cost to the county for the three cars, including trade in allowance for three cars is $5,475.

Larger Engine

The cars include most of the heavy duty equipment which had been on the first county-owned cars but eliminated in later cars. They also went back to a larger engine after experimenting with a lesser powered car.

Power steering, at $75 extra per car, was rejected by the committee although requested by Peppler.

Committee chairman E. G. Steinhilber, Oshkosh, also agreed with a request from Peppler that everything considered part of the policeman's uniform be eligible for replacement under the clothing allowance.

Previously, only the trousers and shirts could be purchased out of the clothing allowance and each individual was responsible for the buying and replacing all other equipment including his gun, badge, and belt equipment.

The extension of coverage under the clothing allowance was given verbal approval but was not placed in the committee minutes.

Generator

The committee also will investigate the availability of civil defense funds for purchase of a stand-by generator for the new police radio transmitter station.

Committee member Robert Wertsch reported that because of the transmitter's location, Wisconsin Public Service Corp. would not extend an emergency power line to the location for use in the event of a power failure. Because two civil defense radios will be tied in to the station, it was felt civil defense funds might be available for the purchase of a 10 kilowatt generator.

The county now owns a 75 kilowatt generator but it was felt this was too big for the transmitter needs.

A joint meeting with the Highway commissioner Leon Morrissey was not given a defense director was proposed to work out details.

Proposed Bonding Disturbs Appleton Finance Director

But Tax Rate Hike Could Result If Financing Is Added to Budget

The possibility loomed Friday that the city's overall tax rate for 1967 could increase by more than $5 instead of the present estimated $4 per $1,000 assessed valuation.

Finance Director Henry Schreve, in a discussion with Mayor George Buckley, expressed concern over $200,000 the finance committee earmarked for a long-term bond issue during its budget hearings.

The committee took the action so it would not have to cut city and public school operational funds any more than it did.

As a result, money for items which would normally be in an annual operational budget and included in the tax levy was put into the bond issue category which will result in the city paying a long-term interest rate.

"I intend to call the matter to the finance committee's attention again when it meets Monday night," Schreve said. "It is a regressive practice to put normal budgetary amounts in a bond issue rather than include them in the year's tax levy."

Past annual recommendations of the Appleton Taxpayers Association and the firm which audits the city's books have stated that expenditures for year-to-year operations should be included in the budget levy rather than be put in bond issues.

Although the inclusion tends to increase the tax rate, they claim the city will save considerable money in the long run by not having to pay interest over a 20-year period on borrowed funds.

As example in 1966 was the inclusion by the council of money in bond issue for sewer construction work, and the board of education's original $5.6 million request for a new senior high school that had operational items in it which should have been budgeted instead of bonded.

Schreve said the budget—rather than bond theory is basic but hard to achieve sometimes. However, he noted the city cut the amount of budgetary matter for bonding down to $125,000 in the 1966 budget.

Speed Up Christmas Mail

Response Good for ZIP Cards

About 25 per cent of the 19,000 U. S. Postal Department's ZIP-a-List cards sent to patrons in the Appleton area have been returned to the post office, coded and returned for patrons' use.

Francis Sumnicht, postmaster, said today the impact of the added ZIP Code use has not been felt as yet, but service during the Christmas rush will definitely be speeded up. "If all Christmas cards are ZIP Coded an untold amount of time will be saved both in service and time of the postal clerks," he said.

Response Outstanding

The postmaster said the response to the ZIP-a-List cards in Appleton has been outstanding, however the rural areas have been slower in returning the lists.

In filling out the ZIP-a-List cards, the patron is merely asked to list the street or postal addresses—not the names—of their correspondents, Sumnicht said. Post Office employees will attach the ZIP Code to each listing and return the card to the sender.

The postmaster said every effort is made to return the list as quickly as possible. "From 100 to 500 cards are received daily for coding," he said, "and every available employee is working to complete the lists as rapidly as possible."

Directory Available

A national ZIP Code directory is available in the lobby of the post office, Sumnicht said. Persons are welcome to complete their own coding if they desire. He also stated firms are welcome to borrow post office library copies of the codes for their mailing lists.

In an effort to complete the coding the postmaster said the post office welcomes calls from individuals requesting codes. He said at the present time an average of 50 calls requesting codes are received daily.

$1.25 Increase

"I would like to see that figure stay the same in the 1967 budget rather than have it be increased to $200,000," Schreve commented. He said it was unlikely the entire $200,000 would be back in the budget because it would mean an additional $1.25 hike in the already high proposed tax rate.

Schreve said he was not being critical of the finance committee because he recognized the major fiscal problem it faced when trimming the original $16.1 million in budget requests from all municipal departments, including the public schools.

However, the finance director felt he should call the matter to the committee's attention again before the public hearing on the 1967 budget at the city council meeting Wednesday night.

As it now stands, the budget recommended for adoption calls for a gross tax rate of $56.01, the highest in the city's history and up about $4 over this year's rate.

Should the council decide to remove the $200,000 figure from the future bonding and include it in the levy, it would result in an additional $1.25 boost in the rate, increasing it to $57.26.

If the $300,000 deletion from $5.6 million school requests is restored, as some persons have advocated, another $1.80 would be added, making the rate $59.05.

On the basis of the city's equalized valuation formula, $165,000 equals $1 on the tax rate.

The gross tax rate this year was $52.15.

The hearing will begin at 9 a.m.

Most Powerful Post in Assembly

Assemblyman Martin Expected To Make Bid for Speaker's Post

BY TIM WYNGAARD

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Assemblyman David Martin, R-Neenah, now entering his fourth term in the State Legislature, is expected to announce this week a bid for the post of speaker of the assembly, most powerful spot in the lower house.

Martin said Thursday that he "definitely is interested" in running for the post, but that his final decision will not be made until the middle of this week. He said that he plans to devote the first four days of the week to contacting veteran members of the assembly to determine whether his bid for the post would be welcomed.

He joins a list of at least six other Republican legislators formally or informally interested in seeking the highest post in the house the party captured in Tuesday's selections.

Others Interested

Other members interested in the post are Harold Clemens of Waukesha and Willis Hutmik of Ladysmith, both announced candidates, and Assemblymen Harold Froehlich of Appleton; J. Curtis McKay, Mequon; Kyle Kenyon, Tomah; and Elmer Nitschke, Beaver Dam.

Minority leader of the 1965 session, Paul Alfonsi of Minocqua, is a complicating factor in all plans being made for the office. Alfonsi was convicted on a bribery charge, was re-elected to an office he may not be eligible to hold, and has an appeal pending before the State Supreme Court. The contenders are not sure if Alfonsi will want the speakership if he returns.

Martin, who has been considering his bid since long before the GOP's successful legislative elections, says that his announcement will rest on the reactions of the members returning to serve again in the 1967 session.

He has no immediate plans to contact the freshmen members of the Republican side of the aisle, he says, despite the fact that the newcomers will measure a full 30 per cent of the 53 Republican votes in the house.

All Should Meet

He says that all candidates for the top post should meet in a caucus with the Republican membership sometime before mid-December.

"It is only fair to the new members that they have a chance to sit down and talk with us," he said.

The caucus can also be used "to sit down and clear the air about the problems that we have before us," he said.

"It is my hope that whoever is elected to the leadership position will make preparations to start quickly in the 1967 session—to name the committees, and to allow for the introduction of bills and the start of public hearings within the first two or three weeks of the session."

But, he warned, the choice of leadership for the next two years should not be rushed. The decision is too important, Martin said.

Sales Pitch

His sales pitch to the members with whom he has served since 1961, he said, is simply to determine what they feel about the role of leadership and who they feel should fill key committee posts.

The position of most of those he has contacted is simply "wait and see," according to Martin. But he is approaching the task earnestly. When interviewed last week he was in the state capital office of his unofficial campaign manager, Assemblyman James Azim of Muscoda, talking by telephone to one after another of the veteran lawmakers.

Martin has, for the time being, ruled out the possibility of building a slate of candidates for leadership positions, seeking election through a unification of their forces.

"If I am going to run for office, at this point anyway, I'm going to run on my own merits," the Neenah legislator said. "Anyone who wants to get into this race can announce."

That, he feels, is the strongest initial position he can take. "But it is not to say that in the future compromises won't be made," he added.

Bus Line Can Hike Children's Fare, PSC Says

5-Cent Increase Affects 6 to 12 Group in Appleton

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — A 5 cent increase in children's fares for the Fox River Bus Lines in the city of Appleton has been approved by the Public Service Commission.

The hike will affect passengers between the ages of 6 and 12 years. The authorized increase includes agreement to an amendment by the bus company to an original request that covered only children between the ages of six and 10 years.

The new rate for passage will be 15 cents, equal to that charged high school students.

A passenger count made on the bus line in September indicated the age group covered by the fare increase accounts for 5.2 per cent of the city route income of the company, and about 8.7 per cent of the school route income.

The commission noted that in the nine month period ending Sept. 31, the new rates would have generated an additional $1,886 from the urban operation and almost $1,995 from the school operation.

The resulting total income during that period would have been about $201,109 and the operating expenses, $186,733. The income ratio and the new fares are just and reasonable, the commission said.

Life Goals and How to Set Them

BY LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D.
University of Southern California

Although students with goals do better than others, the mere selection of a goal does not insure scholastic success.

It is useless to urge the underachieving student to select a goal, with the expectation that this will make him an achiever. Selection of a goal more often is the result of achievement than the cause.

Goal planning is an important element in the thinking of a successful student, and it is important that he feel that his parents approve of his goal, think he can succeed at it and want him to work toward it.

Even though the goal may be temporary it should be appropriate to his own abilities and he must, at the same time, be planning an educational program in line with his aims.

Grades Precede Goals
When a student lacks goals something is wrong! But it is usually impossible to talk a student into setting life time goals while he is not succeeding well enough in school to have a reasonable chance of reaching them.

If his grades are not satisfactory, start by helping him re-plan his learning procedures. Help him set, and reach, day-to-day goals and week-to-week goals.

Make sure that there is communication between the student and his parents about his long range goals.

One of the most frequent reasons for not adopting long range goals is a feeling of inadequacy. The student may be working hard even though his grades are not adequate; consequently, he has no enthusiasm for a long range educational program.

The sequence I have seen many times is more efficient study procedures followed by better grades, more self-confidence and finally a more optimistic outlook.

At this point a student often begins to think about long range goals without any outside encouragement.

Every Case Unique
He is no longer an unhappy drifter.

With so many elements entering into the thinking of a happy, successful student, a person must look for the missing element in the individual case.

There is no one set pattern that works for everyone.

Sometimes, although very rarely, the only thing lacking is the goal. For example, Bob was well into the tenth grade when he suddenly decided to work toward entrance into the college his father had attended. Up to this point Bob's grades had been good but not outstanding.

He was a fortunate boy; although his family could have supplied his needs easily, they had taught him to work for what he wanted. When he asked for an automobile they had said, "Earn the money for the car and the insurance and you may have it." A job in a service station brought him the desired results.

With such a background, it was no wonder that when Bob decided to qualify for entrance in his father's rather exclusive college, his scholarship improved immediately.

Everything except the goal had been present in his life.

Dear Heloise:
When making lunch meat sandwiches for working men, I use two slices of meat since the slices are thin.
Catsup or mustard will not soak the bread if you put it presto, clean heads for the kids, and a cool head for Mom!

When you wash your tennis shoes, just put them in the oven overnight.
The heat of the pilot light dries them perfectly.
This is also good for cloth mittens and such.

Dear Heloise:
Here's a suggestion from my husband:
Our five-month-old baby thinks he is too big to lie down on the couch, so my husband found the perfect solution.
He attached the baby's car seat to the back of the couch.
Now the three of us can sit on the couch and watch TV together.

Dear Heloise:
Here are a few cleaning hints which I find helpful:
A baby's hair brush is useful for dusting carved furniture and grillwork.
A glove-type pot holder can be used as a floor waxer. When you wear one of these, you can apply paste wax without ruining your manicure, and the gloves are very strong and easy to wash.
A small braid rug can be slid under a stove, refrigerator, washer or dryer which is too close to the floor to allow passage of a mop. Lint and dirt will stick to the rug, which is easily laundered.

Use 'em filled with children's shampoo for those troublesome hairwashing days.
It becomes a game (with the youngsters in the tub) and

Methodist, EUB Churches Join to Form Large Sect

CHICAGO (AP) — The merger of two churches into the largest Protestant sect in the United States, the United Methodist Church, with 11,081,000 members, has been approved by delegates of the two churches.

In separate meetings in the same hotel Friday, delegates to the general conferences of the Methodist Church and the Evangelical United Brethren Church voted overwhelming approval of the merger.

The Methodist Church, with 10,331,000 members, is now second in size to the Southern Baptist Convention with 10,393,000 members. Merger with the 750,000-member EUB would make the new church the nation's largest.

The merger, which must be ratified by regional conferences of the two churches, carried 749-40 among Methodist delegates. EUB delegates approved by a 325-88 vote.

Martin Huspek Charged With 21 Burglaries

Three Counties Add Counts to List of Appleton Police

Warrants have been issued charging Martin O. Huspek, 21, 426½ S. Story St., Appleton, with 21 counts of burglary in five counties after an extensive investigation by Outagamie County and Appleton Police Department investigators.

Huspek, already charged with burglarizing the Moose Club, was arraigned in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 Wednesday afternoon on five additional burglary counts brought by Appleton and Outagamie County authorities.

Signed Statements

Officials said today that Huspek signed statements and the charges outside this house have been contained. Huspek waived preliminary hearing on the five counts and was bound over to circuit court for entering of a plea. No date has been set for the appearance. The Appleton man is in the county jail in lieu of posting bonds totaling $16,000.

In Five Counties

The alleged burglaries include 10 in Brown County, three in Winnebago County and one each in Manitowoc and Calumet counties, in addition to six charges in Outagamie County.

County investigators allege that Huspek burglarized R and R Lanes in Black Creek on Aug. 17, and Chuck's Service Station and the U-Save Grocery, both in Seymour, on Aug. 16.

Huspek also was charged with burglarizing Johnson's Service Station, 1725 S. Oneida St., and Weber and Persons, Inc., 1131 N. Badger Ave., on July 16 and July 17, respectively.

Huspek, who was found indigent when he was arraigned on the Moose Club burglary, was declared indigent again Wednesday and continued to have the services of a court-appointed attorney, J. Joseph Cummings. He was bound over to Circuit Court on the Moose Club charge, following a preliminary hearing in County Court Branch 2 Nov. 1.

Brown County charges are Schroeder's Skelly Station, Wrightstown, July 31; Dan's Mobil Station, Wrightstown, July 31; Club 18, DePere, Aug. 15; The Stardust, Village of Howard, Aug. 15; United Rent-A-All, Green Bay, July 31; Fox Valley Realty, Green Bay, July 31; Mayhugh Insurance Agency, Green Bay, July 31; Econo-Care Cleaning Center, Green Bay, July 31; George's Sinclair Station, Green Bay, July 31; Cliff's Instant Car Wash, Green Bay, July 31.

Huspek is also charged with burglarizing Wisconsin Lube and Oil Co., Menasha, July 17; Valley Recharging, Town of Menasha, Aug. 1; and the American Legion Club, Aug. 13.

A town of Mishicot garage in Manitowoc County and a bowling alley in Sherwood, Calumet County complete the consolidated list of charges.

Another Appleton youth, Warren (Pepper) Schroeder, 19, 209 W. Pacific St., earlier pleaded guilty of burglarizing all five of the places for which Huspek is charged.

Forestry Division Endorses Extra Timber Cutting

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — A change in the timber harvest management plan of Menominee Enterprises, Inc. to permit a substantial increase in logging to provide more raw materials for the corporation's lumber mill, has been endorsed by the forestry division of the State Conservation Department and recommended for enactment by the Conservation Commission next month.

The corporation management, representing shareholders who are Menominee Indians released from federal government reservation status several years ago, wants to cut an additional 4,000,000 board feet of timber before next June, when the existing seven-year harvest plan will expire.

Such an additional harvest would be within the seven-year gross harvest limits set by law. The present plan calls for a maximum of 30,000,000 board feet yearly, with some slight annual deviations allowed. But that aggregate limit has not been attained in some years, it was said.

The species in special demand by the Indian-owned lumber manufacturing enterprise are hardwoods and hemlock.

A Few Giant Timbers are all that remain of the historic high bridge at New London. The old wooden structure is being razed by a Green Bay construction

Giant Timbers, Pillars Remain

Progress Claims Historic High Bridge

NEW LONDON—A few giant timbers and rusted spikes are all that remain of historic High Bridge, which fell in the name of progress during the past two weeks.

Creaky, rustic and decayed High Bridge was dismantled piece by piece by Northeastern Wrecking Co., Green Bay. A few magnificent timbers remain upright and giant pillars of concrete stand, but will be demolished this month.

Track Lowered
The bridge has stood for nearly a century. The original Chicago and North Western Railway Co. track followed the land contour. Later railroad right-of-way was lowered to reduce the grade and aid the large number of passenger trains traveling the route. This was when the bridge was erected. The track was lowered about 7½ feet.

Modern transportation and needs outgrew the bridge, which served faithfully during the horse and buggy days and the early horseless carriage era. Load limit restrictions were placed on the bridge some time ago and only one car was able to cross at a time.

Employees of the wrecking firm marveled at the construction as they struggled to tear the bridge apart. A small crane strained against the ancient spikes holding to the well-seasoned timbers and finally the new equipment had to give up the battle momentarily, while workers cut through the spikes with torches.

Progress was destined to win, as it has over most of the old traditions and landmarks trampled along its path.

Some old timers recall that the bridge was a favorite site to take his best girl to look at the moon.

Cost of Project
Estimated cost of the entire project, razing the bridge and establishing a new grade crossing, is $26,000. The city's share of the cost is estimated at $20,000.

The railroad is in the process of reconstructing the track and raising its grade level about two feet. It is installing new ballast and flange rail and will blacktop the crossing and erect signs and adjust wires to complete the project.

City construction cost is estimated at $17,266 and the cost of obtaining right-of-way was $2,796.

More than 21,000 cubic yards of earth will have been moved by the time the project is completed. Much of the earth removal, estimated to cost $11,687, was completed by the city street department earlier.

Removal of the bridge was estimated at $1,960 and railroad construction at $4,115.

County Refuses Commitment On Appleton City Home Use

Welfare-Ordinance Committee To Increase Cost 13 Per Cent

A county official praised the Appleton City Home operation Thursday but failed to make a firm commitment on whether county clients would be sent there after Jan. 1 under Medicare provisions.

Because there was doubt the home would meet certain service standards — most of them calling for additional specialized personnel — the council's welfare-ordinance committee decided to seek advice from Madison. City Clerk Elden Broehm will be asked to send a letter to a state official to determine the status of the city home and see if its services will meet upgraded federal-state requirements as Medicare is expanded.

Ald. Arthur E. Mueller (19th) made the motion after committee members agreed they got more conversation than commitment from Alfred Eggert, Outagamie County public welfare and relief director.

Eggert was invited to the meeting so the committee could get information on whether his department would continue to send clients to the city home and pay the going rates which will be increased 16 per cent if the council approves the rate revision next week.

Critical of Tie
Merten Ehrlicke, Appleton welfare director, and James Hickenbotham, home superintendent, said they received information from the State Board of Health that the home may not qualify to keep Medicare clients that require special, skilled nursing care.

At one point, Eggert explained how he operates his department and was critical of the way Gov. Knowles' "Medicare task force" had drawn up a program for Wisconsin, tying in with Medicare.

Eggert also suggested some categories of care be "manipulated or watered down" so clients would remain in the personal care category and would not require the specialized services as required under the federal program which is being administered by the state through county welfare departments.

Later in the meeting, Eggert retracted his "manipulation" statement and indicated it might have been too strong.

Eggert said he was glad Outagamie County was "out of the nursing home business" and predicted private nursing homes in this area would go begging for business and have "many vacancies."

"They (the private homes) are crying for clients," Eggert declared. "They are finding out there isn't as much of a need for skilled nursing care as they anticipated."

Additional Supervision
Although they may qualify, Eggert felt, elderly persons would not want the additional supervision and care as required by the federal program. "Who needs a registered nurse to lead them to the bathroom?" he asked.

And Eggert claimed many elderly persons now in homes where personal care is given do not want to relocate. Eggert said he had the final say on what type of care category county clients would be placed in. He also pointed out he had been commended for operating his department on "a tight budget."

He urged city officials to keep the home on operation even if it failed to meet the stricter criteria, claiming there would be a major void for personal care facilities. "We will co-operate with the city home 100 per cent as in the past," Eggert said.

Outstanding Care
Eggert said the clients there received "outstanding care" and the home was "one of the best staffed and operated in the region."

However, he usually made qualifying statements that his department would continue to use the City Home, providing it was recognized under Medicare criteria.

"We know we won't be able to meet some of the requirements," commented Hickenbotham, "but well still be able to give good personal type care." Several times he and other committee members pressed Eggert for a direct commitment that the county would continue to keep and pay the charges for county clients at the City Home.

County Clients
Of the estimated 40 to 45 residents at the home, about half of them are county charges who come under updated Medicare standards Jan. 1. The city needs the revenue from the county clients to keep the home in operation.

Presently, the home on W. Spencer Street operates at an annual $20,000 deficit. The new rate increase would cut that figure to about $14,000.

Mayor George Buckley said he would like to see the home on a self-sustaining basis "so it won't cost the taxpayers any extra money."

Ald. Huisman (1st) asked Eggert if Outagamie County would ever build a home for the aged. Eggert said he didn't think the county board was "close to that concept."

Major Help
Buckley pointed out several times that operation of the city home was also of major help to the county in that the latter did not have to provide such a facility then.

But Eggert made it clear he "shops around" for the best prices in assigning welfare clients to nursing homes.

There was generally opinion among all attending the meeting that while the city home was an older building, it had an outstanding program of care for the residents there. Eggert, especially, was lavish in his praise for the home.

Three-Year Delinquent Total Up $10,000

Waupaca County Taxpayers Still Owe $69,423 in Real Estate Tax

WAUPACA — Waupaca County taxpayers still owe $69,423 in real estate taxes for the past three years, County Treasurer John DeVaud, told the county board Thursday in his annual report.

This amount is up more than $10,000 from last year when there was $59,232 in delinquent taxes on the books.

Of the total amount, $39,978 is delinquent from 1965, $20,480 from 1964 and $8,964 from 1963. The report lists the amounts of delinquent taxes in each of the 34 tax districts of the county. The Village of Big Falls is the only district which has no delinquent real estate taxes, DeVaud said.

March Settlements

In the settlement with the 34 local treasurers in March, $389,081 in real estate taxes was turned over to the county treasurer. This was approximately $60,000 more than the previous year, he said. There were 2,963 tax bills returned to the county treasurer office for collection by the local treasurers for the 1965 tax year, he added. Most were tax bills of property owners who took the option of paying their real estate taxes on the deferred plan, DeVaud said.

Interest penalties collected on delinquent taxes resulted in an income of $7,682 for the first 10 months of this year. This is down from $8,959 for the same period last year, the treasurer reported.

Interest on delinquent taxes is charged at a rate of eight tenths of 1 per cent per month from Jan. 1 each year. Property owners, who have delinquent 1965 taxes, will be required to pay 8.8 per cent interest. Those delinquent on 1964 taxes will be paying 18.4 per cent interest. The interest rate for those who will owe 1963 delinquent taxes will be 28 per cent.

Investments of surplus county funds will produce revenues of $15,068 by Dec. 31 as compared with $11,244 in 1965 and $4,074 in 1964, DeVaud said. In addition to investing in U.S. Treasury bills, the county also holds certificates of deposits in several of the county banks, he said.

Inheritance tax collected by the treasurer during the first 10 months of 1966 totals $119,331. The county's share of this tax is $6,860. The balance is paid to the state.

Penal fines and forfeitures during the period from the three municipal justices of the county and clerk of courts total $46,998. The county retains $33,473 and the $13,525 balance is paid to the state.

A breakdown of the delinquent taxes still owed in the various tax districts is as follows. The first figure is 1963 taxes, second 1964, and third figure

May Exceed Record

Number of Deer Killed On Waupaca Roads Up

WAUPACA — The slaughter of deer on Waupaca County highways continues and it now appears another record number of deer will be killed by cars this year.

Last year Waupaca County was the highest in the state, with 786 deer recorded killed by cars and trucks on the highways. With two months remaining this year 656 deer have been recorded by conservation department wardens in the county.

In October alone 133 were reported killed and from all indications will be even higher in November. Rex Oatman, warden in the Waupaca area has recorded 27 deer killed in the first nine days of November and Lawrence McKevett, Warden in the Fremont area has recorded 10 in the first nine days of the month. Warden Jack Kunath in the Clintonville area has not compiled his November figures yet but said they are running much higher than in past years.

The October car kill reported by Oatman in the western and northern part of the county is 79; McKevett reported 29 while in the Clintonville area Kunath reported 25.

Oatman has warned drivers to exercise extra caution while driving in Waupaca County during the upcoming deer season which starts next Saturday.

During deer season the deer are moving more and, according to records of past years, this is one of the most dangerous times of the year.
